NASDTEC Resolution 20

NASDTEC CERTIFICATION RECIPROCITY SYSTEM FOR GRADUATES OF PROGRAMS APPROVED BY STATE DEPARTMENTS OF EDUCATION AS MEETING THE NASDTEC RECOMMENDED STANDARDS

(Circular 351—U. S. Office of Education, Revised)

The National Association of State Directors of Teacher Education and Certification (NASDTEC) has established a national system of reciprocity in teacher certification based on successful completion by the candidate of a teacher education program approved on the basis of nationally recognized standards. Participation by each state is voluntary.

NASDTEC, in cooperation with state and national academic and professional societies and with financial support from the U. S. Office of Education, has developed Proposed Standards for State Approval of Teacher Education. (See Page 22). The Association has recommended that the individual states adopt the Standards as a basis for approval of teacher education programs in colleges within their states, and that they supply to NASDTEC a list of those programs which are found to meet the Standards. The Association also recommends that each state adopt policies providing for the issuance of its regular initial certificate to any student who completes successfully a teacher education program on the approved list. (See Resolution, Page 20).

Well over one-half of the states have indicated that they will issue regular initial certificates to candidates who have successfully completed teacher education programs on this list, including student teaching. Additional states are in the process of developing policies that, when adopted, will permit such certificate issuances.

Names of certificates vary from state to state. In the NASDTEC System, the applicant will receive the same certificate that is issued to students who successfully complete approved teacher education programs in colleges within the state. It should be noted that many states will issue certificates on the basis of the NASDTEC list, even though they have not evaluated their own colleges on the basis of the Standards or submitted a list for their own State. Some states may restrict the operation of the System to colleges with regional accreditation, or accreditation by the National Council for Accreditation of Teacher Education (NCATE). Information regarding whether an individual state will issue certificates on the basis of the NASDTEC List may be obtained from the Director of Teacher Education and Certification in the State Department of Education of that state.

Over thirty (30) states have officially adopted the Standards, or have incorporated them into their state policies and published them under a different title. In addition, a number of other states apply locally developed standards which have been determined by the NASDTEC Standards Committee to be equivalent to the Standards.

Approval of college programs under the NASDTEC System involves several steps, which are described in the Policies and Procedures. (See Page 21). These are (1) self-analysis by the college or university, based on the Standards, (2) an on-site visit to the college or university by a team of professional educators which examines programs in relation to the Standards, and (3) submission by the State Department of Education to the NASDTEC Standards Committee of a list of those programs that have met the Standards. Not all of the programs offered by a college and recognized within a state necessarily will meet the NASDTEC Standards.

INSTRUCTIONS TO APPLICANTS

Graduates of approved programs who wish to apply for a regular initial certificate under the NASDTEC Certification Reciprocity System should so indicate when making application to the respective State Department of Education. No special forms will be required under the System. Each state will use its regular application forms, and will require the applicant to submit an official transcript from the college at which he completed the teacher education program.

Each NASDTEC approved program includes student teaching. The issuing state will expect the transcript to show successful completion of student teaching and a bachelor's degree, and to indicate clearly the teaching major. This System is not effective for those who completed a program prior to 1965.

for Purposes of Interstate Certification

July 1967, Revised

For purposes of interstate certification, it is agreed to develop state lists of college programs that essentially meet the standards set forth in Proposed Standards for State Approval of Teacher Education, U.S. Department of Health, Education, and Welfare, 1966, which is a revision of Proposed Minimum Standards for State Approval of Teacher Preparing Institutions, OE Circular No. 351, 1952. This document will be referred to in these procedures as the Standards. The following procedures will be used:

1. Criteria. Decisions to list each program as approved should be made in terms of the criteria stated in the Standards. The mathematics and science guidelines to be used will be the inserts to the Standards, attached, representing basic standards extracted from "Guidelines for Preparation Programs of Teachers of Secondary School Science and Mathematics" (NASDTEC-AAAS).

   States having other criteria for college accreditation or program approval may wish to continue to use these. In such cases, existing guidelines or standards should be compared with the Standards, and a supplementary checklist developed to include the additional criteria unique to the Standards.

2. Institutional Self-Analysis. As a part of the process of evaluation, the institution will analyze its own programs and determine whether the provisions of the Standards are met. NASDTEC analysis sheets may be used for this purpose. If the institution has already made a self-analysis report to the state based upon other state-approved standards, a supplementary statement should be requested regarding any provisions of the Standards not already covered in other state reports.

3. Visiting Teams. For purposes of interstate certification, a curriculum may be included on the list of programs approved as meeting the Standards only on the basis of an on-the-site visit to the institution by a visiting team representing the State Department of Education.

   The visiting team may include personnel from the state education agency, from colleges and universities which prepare teachers, and from public schools, or it may be a team from another accrediting body acceptable to the state education agency. In any case, the team should be as broadly representative as possible.

   The visiting team shall review the institution's self-analysis, make its own analysis, and submit a report to the state education agency or to a review committee established by the state education agency, regarding the status of the institution's teacher education programs in terms of the application of the Standards.

   Institutions and programs may be included on the list of those which meet the Standards to a satisfactory degree for purposes of interstate certification by the state education agency only, i.e., the final judgment is made by that agency.

4. Recommendations for Interstate Certification. The list of approved programs for purposes of interstate certification shall include at this time only the undergraduate teaching majors listed in Chapter III of the Standards for which specific guidelines have been developed, omitting the Education of Exceptional Children. The list shall indicate whether the institution as a whole is regionally accredited, accredited by NCATE, and whether the specific programs have satisfactorily met the Standards. NASDTEC report forms should be used for ease in interpretation and use.

5. NASDTEC Standards Review Committee. A Standards Review Committee of the National Association of State Directors of Teacher Education and Certification shall have the functions of registering all submitted state lists, providing advisory interpretations of the text of the Standards, proposing the application of these procedures to other areas of teacher education, arranging for periodic reviews, modifications, and reissuances of the Standards, and keeping NASDTEC members informed of new developments in subject matter fields as they relate to guidelines for programs.

   The Standards Review Committee shall consist of six members of NASDTEC selected by the executive committee for overlapping three-year terms. The committee shall meet at least once a year and submit reports to NASDTEC annual meetings, along with any recommendations for changes in standards or procedures which must be voted upon by NASDTEC as a whole.
